

Securities Finance overview

Global securities financing data tracking short selling and institutional fund activity.

We provide global securities financing data to help customers manage securities lending programmes, manage collateral, optimise trading performance and enhance investment decision making.

The dataset covers more than $25trn of global securities in the lending programmes of over 20,000 institutional funds. It includes more than 3m intraday transactions dating back 15+ years.

We source our data directly from leading industry practitioners, including prime brokers, custodians, asset managers and hedge funds. A variety of data delivery channels, including web applications, Excel add-in, data feed and third party data providers, enable integration into workflows.
