

Commercial Plays & Basins Worldwide

A global insight service providing a deeper understanding of the process by which the upstream industry's key plays and basins are commercialized through upstream and synergistic energy-sector activity.

Our industry experts assess global plays and basins, evaluating business-context potential at technical, commercial, and strategic levels. We indicate how to monetize that potential efficiently and profitably, with consideration paid to energy transition and advantaged-barrel strategies.

Commercial Plays & Basins allows clients to access:

- Collaborative expertise on basin-centric topics and issues, leveraging our experts perspectives from across the full energy chain;
- Forward looking unbiased views, fully integrated with our industry leading technical databases and global market analyses, filling in global or regional knowledge gaps with expert assessments and opinions grounded in technical fundamentals;
- Direct connection to industry experts, with opportunities for challenge sessions, workshops, reviews and presentations for additional insights into specific topics and questions

We answer key questions:

- Which global basins are “favorable” for E&P activity?
- Who is making money in a basin, and how?
- Who are the technical and commercial basin masters?
- What are the commercial and strategic implications of E&P activity, deal flow and the above ground environment?
- What is the impact of technology and the energy transition?

Analytical Foundations

- Commercial and strategic implications of current E&P activity that can alter a basin's future investment and development trajectory
- Analysis of early signals that alter the competitive landscape of the industry's key basins - how, why, and when company intentions might change
- Application of our proprietary statistical approach for basin-phase schema and favorability classification of conventional basins, providing technical and commercial context and supported by industry leading upstream databases
