

Andy Dyer, CEO, AFS Logistics

Andy is a proven supply chain executive with a track record of optimizing and executing domestic and global networks that exceed operational and financial targets. He earned a bachelor's in Economics from the College of William and Mary before beginning his career at Overnite Transportation. He then transitioned to XPO Logistics (formerly Menlo Logistics) as a Site Logistics Manager and worked his way all the way up to Senior Vice President of Managed Transportation. His most recent role prior to AFS was President at New Age Logistics where he led a year-over-year growth in excess of 20%. Andy now lives in Atlanta and enjoys taking road trips and grilling. To connect with Andy on LinkedIn, click here.

To learn more about AFS, visit www.afs.net.