Helping you tackle formulation challenges

Buy products and download documents online in the US right from our website.

Brenntag North America, the global market leader in chemical distribution, operates a fully functioning Personal Care Application & Development Center in Allentown, PA.

Our Personal Care Application & Development Center focuses on formulation development while intending to promote new ideas and concepts with new market trends and as consumer demands change.

Each year our personal care chemists debut new formulations and prototypes for cosmetics, hair care, and skin care.

These prototypes serve to showcase trends in the personal care market, as well as unique uses for ingredients from our product offering.

Brenntag Personal Care is willing and able to assist you in every step of the process.
