

Managed Corporate Actions - Agent Validation Service

Enhance Accuracy and Efficiency for Corporate Actions Announcements

Eliminate the time-consuming and error-prone manual reconciliation and validation of agent messages for corporate actions with people and technology to deliver exceptional accuracy, speed and regulatory compliance.

Evolve beyond manual validation

Managed Corporate Actions - Agent Validation Service delivers enhanced accuracy, speed and confidence for financial institutions who need to process and advise on corporate actions.

Financial institutions operate in increasingly complex and fast-paced global environments. Yet the corporate actions that drive processing and decision-making must still be carefully reviewed and reconciled in a painstaking, time-consuming and manual process that involves reading prospectuses, procuring paperwork, normalizing the data from narratives, interacting with custodians and refining the terms.

In addition to being resource-intensive, these manual processes are slow and error-prone, resulting in delays and inaccuracies that slow progress, erode client trust and can cost firms millions.

To act quickly and make trusted, informed decisions on behalf of their customers, firms need access to a golden record that eliminates discrepancies, is based on validated corporate actions and firm-specific processes and serves as a single source of truth.

An innovative validation solution

Overcome the challenges involved in validating corporate actions data and accelerate internal processes with the Market Intelligence Agent Validation Service (AVS).

Building on an extensive track record of success in validating global agents and multiple data providers, AVS replaces unreliable, manual validation processes with a technology-assisted managed service that delivers rigorously reviewed and validated golden-source corporate actions data.

AVS is driven by customized rules provided by you to validate the agent messages. The result is a streamlined, scalable, reliable validation process that supports fast, accurate processing and optimal decision-making.

Unmatched Data, Technology and Expertise

Entrust this challenging and resource-intensive activity to the global experts in corporate actions processing and data-driven financial operations.

Our extensive industry reach, technical capabilities, world-leading datasets and years of specialist expertise ensure that every agent message is validated against the issuer's golden copy.
