

Tax Solutions: Tax Withholding

Enabling financial services firms to provide the correct calculations of tax withholding and reporting requirements for payments made to US and non-US customers

Tax Withholding is a solution that provides calculations for the rate of US withholding tax required on income paid to non-resident aliens and the rate of backup withholding on payments to US persons.

Rates of withholding for different income types paid to US and non-US payees can change throughout the year. This can depend on the current validation and expiration of Forms W-8 and W-9, as well as updates to tax regulations.

Our Tax Withholding solution uses the current tax form validation attributes to determine a withholding rate on over 100 different income types. It also helps our customers determine where a Form 1099 or Form 1042-S reporting requirement exists and provides the required coding for 1042-S reporting. The solution is compatible with our tax validation tools, as well as with the validation parameters that the withholding agent collects for each customer. The withholding rate and reporting result for each income type requested is based on each payee document validation status, payee type, treaty claim and country, and payment date.
